CHINESE BANDITS!

ONE KILLED!

The steamer C. R. Bishop, which arrived from Kauai on Saturday, brings intelligence of a tragedy that recently occurred on that Island. It seems that some two years ago, two Chinamen ran away from a plantation in Hanalei District, and establishing themselves in a hut in the wilds of the Kalihi-wai mountains, seem to have got such a character for ferocity as to be the terror of the district. A short time since, some women and children went up the valley to get maile, but were chased and ran for their lives from these two freebooters of the mountain wilds. The inhabitants of the whole district have been kept in a state of fear by these fellows, and no one ventured into the woods without arms. The general opinion among foreigners at Kauai, including Chinese, is that the man who was shot was served rightly, being a very bad and dangerous man. It is a significant fact that the information of the whereabouts of the desperadoes was given by two of their own countrymen, who, however, quite characteristically, left before the trouble began.

By the kindness of Marshal Parke we are permitted to make the following extracts from a letter received by him giving the particulars: "On Sunday, the 9th April, two Chinamen informed Naukana, Josia and Lupea that Ahing and Chung Gin, two runaway prisoners, were up in the Kalihiwai Valley, and that they (the informers) would show them the way to the place where they had built themselves a hut. Knowing the men to be bad and dangerous characters, they armed themselves with old guns, and tried to get a constable to go with them, but could not find one. After traveling over five miles up the valley the two Chinamen told them that the house was close to where they then were, and, as they did not wish to be seen, left. The three natives proceeded and soon found the hut. Naukana went to the doorway, which was covered with a piece of bagging, and pulled it away; he saw Ahing, who jumped up and hurled a javeline at him, which struck his gun. Naukana then covered him with his gun and told him to be quiet, that they would not hurt him, but Ahing hurled another javeline at him which made two holes in his jumper and grazed his skin a little; he then seized a cane knife and, as he was coming, Naukana fired and the Chinaman fell dead."

"Ahing's companion, Chung Gin, tried to run from the back of the hut, but was caught and is now in irons."
